

Shared Living Provider Opportunities

Share your heart and home today!

Woodfords' Shared Living providers open their homes to adults with intellectual disabilities. Providers offer direct support in their own home, providing a natural family environment and fostering relationships and community inclusion.

Shared Living Providers can be community members who are matched with a nonrelated individual or they can be parents, relatives, or even family friends for loved ones with intellectual disabilities when they reach adulthood. Shared Living providers must be able to pass a full background check, be in good mental and physical health, able to complete required trainings, and be willing to work as a member of the program team.
